23 Skadoo

Written & Illustrated by Bill Greenberg

Oh how Iggy loves jazz. Skoo-be-do-be dooooo! When he went up to one of the hep-cat boogie-woogie groovin'-and-a-movin' jazz guys and asked, "Can I play?" The drummer said, "NO! 23 skadoo – bye." Iggy needs a jazz horn; or a bike horn; or a cow horn; or a horned toad?

Iggy's goal in this book was to be a jazz musician. Having a goal is an important part of any story. Here's a fun way to practice goal setting.

- * What will your future be like? (Use a smaller list for younger children.)
  - * List or draw ten things you'd like to have.
  - * List/draw five jobs you'd like to have.
  - * List/draw ten adventures you'd like to enjoy.
  - * List/draw ten things you'd like people to say about you.
  - * List/draw ten qualities your best friends will have.
  - * List/draw five places you'd like to live.
  - * List/draw five things you'd like to invent.
  - * List/draw ten things you'll be the proudest of someday.
