

Activity 2

Bamboozled

Written & Illustrated by
Bill Greenberg

“Kaw-kaaaaaw, eek-eeeeek!” The sounds of the jungle were constant: “Urp-urrrrrrrp, zzzzzzzzzz, ruff-ruff-ruff-ruff, quack-quack!” After hours of those awful noises, Freddy decided to go out into the jungle and shoosh the tiny-blue-floppy-eared creatures. That was his first big mistake . . .

Freddy’s family moved to a small island. No one asked him if he wanted to move there. If you had a choice to live somewhere that you’ve never been before; what would it look like? What things could you do there? What would the people be like? Who would live there with you? What adventures would be exciting? Would you ever leave? Why?

Draw pictures to show your ideas! If you write your ideas too - it may be the beginning to an exciting book!