

Activity 2

Whoziwhatzit

Written & Illustrated by Bill Greenberg

Mr. Babyface Boss gave Iggy's class a free trip to Super-Fun-Amazing-Unbelievably-Fantastic Land! – But who will be left in the parking lot for three days, all by themselves; if they don't know what a flibberflobber-whoziwhatzit-thingamabob-dittleflipple is?

The author started writing this book by first listing as many nonsense words as he could think of. It's a good writing trick. Here are some fun ideas for practicing your "brainstorming" skills.

Write a list or draw pictures to show:

- * All the colors you can think of.
- * All the grown-ups you can think of.
- * All the pets you can think of.
- * All the wild animals you can think of.
- * All the television shows you can think of.
- * All the video games you can think of.
- * All the sports you can think of.
- * All the things you do in school each day.
- * All the things you do at home each day.
- * All the foods you can think of.
