Yetta

Written & Illustrated by Bill Greenberg

Woosh! Flower petals are plopping all over stepdad, stepbrother, step baby, step robot, step chicken, and stepladder again. Yetta is so hyper that she's ruining everything with her jumping, running, twisting, singing, dancing and laughing in the middle of a wedding?

A very important part to writing a story is imagining what the main character will be like. In this story; Yetta is hyper. Try finishing these “open-ended” sentences about you. Imagine that the book you’re beginning to write - will turn into a movie: starring you!

I really like to . . .

If I had one wish . . .

I usually laugh when . . .

I get mad when . . .

I feel tired during the day when . . .

My favorite game is . . .

My best day ever was when . . .

If I were the teacher I'd . . .

Now write a story using all these ideas. Maybe it will become a book someday!
